BSPT TRAINS IN LIVE HOMES

FROM OUR STUDENTS

BSPT has worked the last 14 years with a leading building materials manufacturer successfully teaching proper building science techniques to thousands of contractors nationwide. BSPT's teaching methods not only set our customers up for success in the field, but has led them to become better, more sustainable contractors in their respective communities. We look forward to working with BSPT for many years to come. Michael D. AEROBARRIER

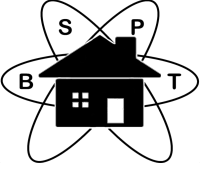

On February 21st, 2024 I got the opportunity to attend the IDL training in Louisville, Ky with BSPT. I was thoroughly impressed not only with the way they delivered the clever presentations of the training material, but also with the real world experience in which he possessed that allowed them to clearly present the information not only to technicians but also sales people. I highly recommend BSPT as trainers. Zach J. ProTec Insulators

I just want to thank you for everything that you did. I learned so much from you, at first I was a little scared I wasn't going to pass the exam. After your class I was confident that I was going to pass and I did! You led the class so well it was engaging, and easy to follow along. I would recommend you to anyone that needs the certification. Juana G. Cool Components

I just wanted to thank you for coming out to proctor our BPI BA-T exam. When we were initially looking for how we were going to get everyone certified I remembered that we have had you come proctor our exams before. The other quotes that we got were outrageous, and your prices were very reasonable. I don't believe we will ever use anyone else for our BPI certifications. Everyone that took the exam took so much out of the prep course that you lead. Which ensured everyone passed with flying colors. Again, thank you for all you do. Roberto G. Gomez HVAC San Antonio

BSPT is great. This was at least the 6th class I've been in and I learn more and more every time. They have tons of knowledge and also keeps every class entertaining. I look forward to continuing to learn from them. Bobby H. Louisville Insulation

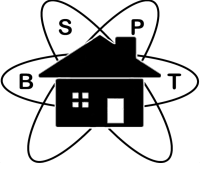

I have had the pleasure of working with BSPT for the past year and a half training my HVAC AirCare Contractors. I can always count on BSPT to be professional, organized, punctual, very knowledgeable, informative and most of all entertaining with my contractors. Your trainers have a natural ability to connect with everyone in the training, making them feel comfortable to ask questions, have open discussions to get clarification and are able to communicate to each individual on their level, no matter whether they are an apprentice or seasoned professional. BSPT is such an asset to the AirCare Program and goes above and beyond for our HVAC Contractors! Karin L. Owens-Corning
